BEREA BILL BECKNER.

The Winchester Democrat goes for Bera Bill Beckner, of whom Senator Beck remarked that he had seen dozens of pictures of Judas Iscariot, no two of which were alike, yet all looked like Bill Beckner. The reason his home paper takes him to task is that he made three false statements at least, in his Munfordsville speech as follows:

1. That he had given up a seat in Congress that was assured him when he retired from the democratic party.
2. That in Winchester Youtsey is believed to be the man who fired the shot that killed Goebel.
3. That Youtsey's friends boast that he will get a pardon if Gov. Beckham is re-elected.

The Democrat in contradiction of the first falsehood, says he was only given a short term in Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. Marcus Lisle after Joe Kendall had beaten him for the succeeding fall term. Continuing the paper says that in 1896 Beckner was again a candidate for the nomination, and after making a thorough canvass of the district, making strong free silver speeches whenever and wherever he thought that course necessary to secure votes, he was defeated for the nomination at the Beattyville convention by Hon. Thos. Y. Fitzpatrick. In 1898 Clark county's candidate for Congress was Hon. John E. Garner. The convention was held at West Liberty. Thos. Y. Fitzpatrick was the nominee of that convention. In that convention Beckner was chairman of the committee on resolutions which were adopted and which endorsed the Chicago platform of 1896 and strongly endorsed Mr. Bryan.

The next we hear of old Bera is that he was a candidate for the republican nomination for Congress, for which he was defeated. In 1892 he was a receptive candidate, but John G. White landed the plum. This very effectively refutes falsehood No. 1.

No. 2 is as easily disposed of and the Democrat does so as follows: His statement that in Winchester Youtsey is believed to have fired the shot that killed Goebel, is as far from the truth as his other statement, unless he refers to those who were glad that Goebel was killed and at first refused to be convinced that Goebel was killed, and then professed to believe that Jack Chinn killed him and then claimed that none of them were guilty and who denounced the officials of the State for trying Youtsey, and who now believe that Youtsey committed the unpardonable sin when he told the truth and confessed that the killing of Goebel was the result of a conspiracy on the part of Taylor, Powers and other republican leaders.

Falsehood No. 3 is shown by the Democrat, which says: "We do not believe that Judge Beckner can name a single respectable person in or out of Winchester, friendly or unfriendly to Youtsey, who has ever boasted or expressed the belief that Gov. Beckham will pardon Youtsey, and we do not believe that Judge Beckner himself entertains such belief."

The truth is that Youtsey attempted to make a confession to Gov. Beckham and the governor refused to listen to his statement, but told him that he need not make a confession with any hope of getting a pardon from him. Everybody knows this and Judge Beckner knows it too.

Where the Hon. Bera Bill is known perhaps it is a waste of space to give the above, but for the benefit of those who do not know the character of the man who sought and obtained the republican nomination for attorney general, we want to show him up in his true light. A few years ago he was a ranting free silverite. He was a democrat for revenue only and when the revenue was not forthcoming he became the vilest kind of a republican, unstable as water, not as easy to place as the Irishman's flea, and with traitor and renegade written all over his face, this modern Judas Iscariot has been taken into full fellowship by the leaders of the republican party, because he is of the stuff that they are made. Decent republicans won't touch him with a 40-foot pole, and if, perchance, he should be elected, even the meaner republicans would be ashamed of him.

The Proper Treatment for a Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days. For sale by W. N. Craig

Wm. Smith, of Bourbon county, sold his wheat at the threshing at 95c. This is the best price that has been paid in Kentucky this season.

James A. Bulett sold 10 yearling mules to Mercer county parties at $70.

Ernest Duncan sold to same parties two two-year old small mules at $70.—Jesseamine Journal.

There is a drove of wild hogs running at large in Knox county that is probably the largest drove of such animals in the State. There are more than 50 head and all large and fierce.

Stull Bros sold at Perryville 30 hogs averaging 160 pounds to J. C. Johnston at $5.10 per 100. Joe McDowell, of Perryville, sold to Gentry, 70 cattle at 5c. They average 1,400 lbs.—News.

J. A. Shuttleworth, of Louisville, sold to Mr. A. G. McCoolley, of Boone county, his Gentry farm, located on the Lebanon pike, about one mile from Danville. The farm contains about 205 acres, and was sold for $19,500.

Judge John W. Hughes sold his magnificent Salt river farm of 542 acres in Mercer to John Horn for $35,500. Judge Hughes will make Harrodsburg his home, but will spend most of his time on his rice plantation in Texas.

The practice of turning cows on young rye in the fall is a good one, but when the ground is very wet damage may result. Grazing the rye provides late green food; but while the rye field may be used for cows in the fall, they should not be turned on too early in the spring. It does not do so much harm for cows to change from grass to rye, as it does from dry feed in spring to the young rye.

A Remarkable Record.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for over 30 years, during which time many million bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even, as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by W. N. Craig.

The Pulaski County Medical Society at a recent meeting adopted resolutions calling on the county attorney to prosecute all persons who are practicing medicine illegally and unregistered and selling secret nostrums for the cure of cancer and other diseases. The county attorney is also asked to prosecute all druggists who are dispensing cough mixtures and other compounds, sold under alleged special formulae and collecting fees for same.

For a bilious attack take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and a quick cure is certain. For sale by W. N. Craig.

Judge Charles J. Helm, of Newport, died suddenly at Cynthiana.

MIDDLEBURG.

Born to the wife of Aaron Coleman, a democrat.

Rev. J. B. Ferrell filled his pulpit at Rocky Ford Sunday.

Corn cutting and sorghum making seem to be engaging the attention of most farmers just at present.

The rural free delivery subject seems to have subsided for the present, but it is to be hoped will some day be a reality.

W. T. Dye had a very painful accident in Stanford Friday—a wagon loaded with coal ran over his foot, badly mashing it.

W. P. Wesley has moved to his Indian creek farm and Robert Cowan has moved into the property recently purchased and vacated by Wesley.

The citizens of North Middleburg, "Needmore," are making an effort for the establishment of a post office, which will be of great convenience to the patrons of the north end.

Frank L. Lyon, aged 22, and Miss Maggie Henson, sweet 16, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of John Wells on Doe creek.

Rev. Hardin Newell tied the connubial knot.

Rev. L. R. Godbey is attending the M. E. Conference at Covington and as a consequence there were no services at that church Sunday. His many friends are very desirous of his return to the pastorate for the coming year.

Miss Cordie Hubble is very sick with malarial fever but it is to be hoped not seriously. Nathan Hicks is convalescing from a siege of typhoid fever.

There is considerable sickness in the neighborhood, though no serious cases.

School is progressing very nicely at M. N. C. under the able tutelage of Prof. J. W. Davis and his most efficient assistant, Mrs. Davis. There are over 100 pupils enrolled and seemingly much interest is being taken on the part of both pupil and parent.

A veritable drouth is on here, no rain having fallen for several weeks.

Many farmers are either driving their stock to the river or are hauling water to them. Pastures are drying up and stock ponds are dry. Green river is lower than it has been this season.

J. K. Coffey is having some needed repairs made to the dam of the old water mill here. This old mill is not only an old land mark of Middleburg, but of this entire section, it having been erected during the early part of the 19th century. Middleburg was known as Coffey's Mill for many years.

Jack Frost visited Middleburg Friday night, it being his initial trip of the season, though he was seen in other parts of the county Thursday night. It is not thought that anything is seriously damaged except tender vegetation, though there are hundreds of acres of late corn that will be ruined with heavy frost.

The republicans are taking considerable interest in the coming primary of October 3, when a candidate for circuit clerk will be nominated. James Gibony, the present incumbent, and Jason Wesley are the only contestants, both of whom are making hay while the sun shines. The muddle in the representative's race is yet unsettled. Capt. Ed Pelley, of Dunville, still claiming to be the regular nominee.

The democracy of Casey is more harmonious and united than it has been for 10 years, though our party has been in the minority for several years past, it has suffered very materially from bolters and traitors and would-be leaders. We don't know of a single democrat this year who will not enthusiastically support the ticket from Beckham down. The Casey democracy is united, enthusiastic and determined.

The speeches of Gov. Beckham and Congressman James were just what the party needed, and that it will prove effective, goes without saying. The party is very much interested just at present in the candidacy of the Hon. Rollin Hurt, of Columbia, for circuit judge over H. C. Baker, a renegade democrat. Though the judicial district is republican from 2,000 to 2,800, it is claimed with the dissatisfaction engendered in the late Baker-Miller race that the democrats have a fighting chance. We trust that a bright day is in store for the mountain democracy.

A Costly War.

Thirty years war with the Achinese, a ferocious lot of Malays, so bloodthirsty that they actually wanted to defend their own island and resist the imposition of a foreign yoke upon them, has cost the Dutch $200,000,000 and has been conducted so privately that hardly anybody outside has heard anything about it. It is now over, the principal sultan having laid his turban at the feet of the principal Dutchman concerned, and the soft Sumatran airs, spiced laden, now breathe of concord.

It is time high that the dove of peace should descend there, the hope, rather than the expectation being that its roost may correspond in duration with its protracted absence.—New York Tribune.

LANCASTER.

Rain is still badly needed.

Heavy frosts were seen in this locality during the cool spell.

Isaac Hamilton has rented the Anderson for house another year.

The Ladies' Aid Society meets next Saturday afternoon with Mrs. W. A. Price.

Ed Perkins bought Jas. Sutton's farm in the Marksburg locality for $3,300.

Elder Tindler's fine sermon Sunday, "How to Get On," was highly commended.

Seven car-loads of stock were shipped to the city market from here in the last few days.

A grand gold medal contest will be one of the interesting features of the W. C. T. U. convention.

J. W. Hendricks, of Paint Lick, has bought W. Ward's livery stable in this city and will move here.

Demand for houses to rent is greater than the supply and even now they are being engaged for next year.

Dr. J. S. Gilbert, of Shelby county, has located in Lancaster and formed a partnership with Dr. Burnett.

A Negro woman was fined $50 and 10 days in jail for having beer in her possession with intention of selling it.

Capt. T. A. Elkin has rented his farm and country residence known as "The Maples" to James House and contemplates a removal with his family into Lancaster.

An altercation near Potts' Mill Friday resulted in John C. Masters killing Whittaker with a knife, Eli Williams also receiving a wound. The fracas occurred on the Madison side and the quarrel came up over a barn.

Charles Doty, of Lexington, but formerly of this place, cut his hand and it was feared amputation of the arm would be necessary as he was threatened with blood poisoning. His condition is now somewhat improved.

Rev. J. E. Woolford, the Baptist minister, has just closed a meeting in Clark county and has gone to Brodhead to hold a revival. Mr. Woolford finishes a three years' pastorate here the 1st of October and contemplates a removal north.

W. H. Kinnaird has returned from Columbus, Ohio. Eld. F. M. Tindler, Mrs. Wm. Barnett, Misses Sallie and Mattie Elkin, Elizabeth Brown, Ethel West and Nell Johnston are attending the State convention of the Christian church at Paris.

Hot Shot For Renegade Owens.

Replying to an attack Gov. Beckham delivered the following hot shot to the major in his old home Saturday:

"Emity and enmity are a guarantee of any man's honesty and respectability, but one Maj. W. C. Owens has seen fit to attack me and reflect on my action in the collection of these claims. Of course, it is not necessary to tell the people of Scott county who he is, for until the last year or two he was a resident here, nor would it be proper for me to refer to so contemptible a character except for the fact that he was chairman and spokesman of the late republican convention and seems to be the oratorical companion of Mr. Belknap to do the blackguarding for him. His attacks upon me have no weight here or anywhere else that he is known, for his depravity is so deep that his abuse has no effect among those who know him except to commend the object of his attacks to their good opinion. He appeals to the young men of the State to join him in aiding the republican ticket, when it is a fact well known to the citizens of this county that this same 'Maj.' Owens while he lived here ruined more young men than any other man ever did."

"That all the people of Kentucky may know him as the good people of this county do, I place the brand upon his brazen forehead and call attention to the fact that he is the same man whom William Goebel accurately described, and as you well know him to be, as the most notorious and conscienceless black leg in the State. He is now a fugitive from the score and contempt of the good people of this county, whose every sense of virtue and morality he violated while he resided among you. He had sink into merited oblivion in the dens of vice in the city of Louisville when he was recently dragged out to be made chairman of the republican convention and to vent his rage upon the democratic party by vilifying its candidates."

Sheriff Woodson McChord, of Clark county, who arrested Curtis Jett for the Marcus murder, arrested Charles Green at Lexington, who is an important witness in the Cobkrell murder case. Green testified that he saw Jett and two other men fire at Cobkrell from a courthouse window at Jackson.

Three prisoners awaiting sentence to prison terms for murder and robbery escaped from the jail at Frankfort, one of them having first split the head of Deputy Jailer Merritt Williams with a bottle.
